

Digital Kit

FIERE DI PARMA 202 CIBUS

TWITTER

The official Twitter profile is @CibusParma

The profile has highly-qualified followers in the industry media, institutions and food & beverage companies. It usually becomes a trending topic during the event.

Go to the Cibus profile on Twitter: <https://twitter.com/cibusparma>

If you are not yet following the Cibus profile on Twitter, we invite you - as a first step - to follow @CibusParma on your personal and company profile.

The hashtag to include in tweets referring to the Cibus project and events is #Cibus - it will enter the stream of tweets related to the project on the website and it will be more easily traceable by interested users.

To tag the profile or send direct messages, simply tag @CibusParma

FACEBOOK

The official Facebook fan page is @CibusParma

Go to the Cibus fan page on Facebook:
<https://www.facebook.com/CibusParma/>

We invite you to like our fan page on your personal profiles and company fan pages.

Facebook doesn't use particular hashtags, but we invite you all the same to tag the @CibusParma fan page in all your posts relating to this project.

With thousands of fans, the Cibus Facebook page is more consumer-oriented and therefore the ideal channel for introducing your new products or services to the public of this event.

To facilitate the publication of these contents on the Cibus fan page, we invite you to follow the instructions at the end of the digital kit.

LINKEDIN

The discussion group

The Cibus group Where Food Meets Business has been active on LinkedIn since 2014 to discuss all issues concerning the agri-food sector and shared with the Cibus brand.

Go to the Cibus LinkedIn group:
<https://www.linkedin.com/groups/4271609>

The group has currently over 3,600 members, mainly users qualified in the food & beverage sector.

To participate, simply register and submit your contribution, which will be published after evaluation by the editorial staff. If you wish to suggest a discussion topic related to an area or product/service you are interested in for direct publication by the Cibus editorial staff, we invite you to contact us.

Official page

The Cibus International Food Exhibition page on LinkedIn provides the most important Cibus updates, from participation in national and international events to collaborations and news about the exhibition.

Go to the Cibus LinkedIn page:
<https://www.linkedin.com/showcase/18582048/>

INSTAGRAM

The official Cibus Instagram profile has just been created and has great potential.

Go to the Instagram profile of Cibus:
<https://www.instagram.com/cibusparma/>

Please follow @cibusparma, comment on content and share images and videos about Cibus.

Official hashtags: #cibus #cibusparma and #cibus2021

SUPPORT

The Cibus social team is available to arrange shared and synergistic activities on social networks (for example, retweeting your tweets about #Cibus and viceversa) so as to promote your business activities before and during the exhibition.

We suggest that you always include, in addition to the mentioned @tags and #hashtags, the official logos of the event when building social content on Facebook and Twitter. This will make it easier for us to share your posts directly with the public.

For further information, to arrange social actions in advance, or suggest topics or contributions for LinkedIn discussions, please contact: a.andrei@fiereparma.it

Thank you for your cooperation and enjoy Cibus 2021!

The image shows a blurred background of a conference or event. In the foreground, several people are seen from behind, some holding up their smartphones to take photos or videos. In the background, there are tables, chairs, and a person sitting at a table. A large white hexagonal graphic with a double border is centered in the image, containing the text "THANK YOU" in bold, black, uppercase letters.

THANK YOU